

THE HOTEL AND THE BUILDING

The founders of Villa Dagmar have been the successful owners of Hotel Diplomat since the 1930s. Their experience and passion for creating memorable hotel experiences has made them one of the country's leading players in the tourism and hospitality industry. In 1970, the founders acquired properties and hotels in Åre, which became the popular Hotel Åregården, Dippan and Sports Hotel. They ran the business successfully until 2016, when the vision of a sister hotel to Hotel Diplomat became a reality.

The inspiration for Villa Dagmar comes from a person in the founder's family, a modern, generous and inclusive woman with an eye for quality, good food and design. Another significant part of the inspiration comes from the founders' many trips throughout Europe and their interest in discovering cultural sites, crafts and collectibles.

The appreciation for the beautiful things in life is the true source of inspiration; traveling abroad with friends, classical cuisine from the Mediterranean and the great artists who dominated Europe in the early 20th century. Inspiration was also taken from strong women such as Karin Larsson, Sonia Delaunay, Helle Nice, Gertrude Stein, Hilma af Klint, Peggy Guggenheim and Kiki De Montparnasse - visionaries who stood for culture, intellect and modernity.

The name Villa Dagmar comes from an elegant home surrounded by a beautiful rose garden, Villa Dagmar in Båstad. Villa Dagmar, then as now, was an escape from the bustling city, an eclectic and cozy place where friends and family gathered in the 1920s and 1930s. The villa was filled with beautiful flowers and decorated with an extensive art collection that the couple acquired during their long European journeys. The house was inspired by Villa D'Este in Rome and by Villa San Michele in Capri, built by world-renowned physician and author Axel Munthe. Axel, who was Queen Victoria's doctor and rumored lover, lived on Nybrogatan 25 - 27, where Villa Dagmar is located today.

THE HOTEL OWNERS - THE HISTORY OF THE MALMSTRÖM FAMILY

1882 - The first houses are completed on Strandvägen in Stockholm. Around 1860, Strandvägen did not exist, the area was a swampy beach with unhygienic slums.

1900 - At the turn of the century, young Oscar II expressed a wish that Stockholm would have a parade street where the royal family could make its way to Djurgården to welcome spring, on the 1st of May. This is how Strandvägen came to be.

1904 - Around 1904, only Strandvägen 7 remained to be built on.

1911 - Strandvägen 7 was built in an Art Nouveau style and became the most magnificent building on Strandvägen. The building took the form of a "U" with the wings facing the street. The property was divided into 7A, 7B and 7C. The builder was A. Boström and the house was named the same. Boströmska Palatset was inaugurated in 1911 at Strandvägen 7 and is still today considered to be Strandvägen's most beautiful building.

1918 - Strandvägen 7C was acquired by Karl and Dagmar Bergsten (the current owner's great grandparents). The floors were light, airy and large, with two state rooms per floor of 350/550 square meters. The rent for a ten-room apartment at the time was 8,000-10,000 SEK per year, with a professional salary being at approximately 1,200 SEK per year.

1920 - The first floor is rented out as a hotel room under the name Strandvägspensionatet.

1930 - During the Depression, the large floors were emptied. But 7C managed to create interest in foreign embassies and in the 30s and 50s 7C was rented by Romanian, Chilean, Persian, Hungarian, Italian and Canadian embassies.

1960 - In 1960 it was decided to expand the hotel part and in 1962 the Romanian Embassy's premises were rebuilt into a 15 room hotel.

1966 - Great demand for hotel rooms made Sune Malmström Sr. decide to buy out his siblings and become the sole owner and rebuild the entire building into a modern hotel. Decor in blonde Swedish style was made by NK Design. In connection with this, the hotel was named Hotel Diplomat.

1970 - Sune Malmström Sr. bought properties and hotels in Åre. A few years later, a hotel was also bought in Linköping as well as the Swan Diplomat, located between Oxford and Cambridge, which was later sold.

2011 - The property, Strandvägen 7C, celebrated 100 years.

2014 - 2019 The owners sold the properties and the hotel in Åre.

2016 - The owners sign a new agreement with the City of Stockholm to run a new hotel on Nybrogatan 25-27 next to Östermalm's Market Hall. The property was built in 1870 and is a well-preserved Art Nouveau style building.

2021 - On May 6, Villa Dagmar opens the doors to a unique home, a city villa, on Nybrogatan 25-27.
